MUD-SLINGING IS EXPENSIVE

Having wasted $50,000 and more in a mud-slinging campaign, motivated by dirty politics, the Bell investigating committee has decided it cense its nefarious labors. It should have quit before it started.

And we are as much in the dark as ever as to the merits or otherwise of the Townsend plan.

UNDESIRABLE RESULT

But the committee has done one thing, which it neither desired nor expected when it launched upon the farce investigation—it has aroused the innate sense of fair play of the American people and called behind it Dr. Townsend and his followers a political band that will cause many a political head to be decapitated in the coming presidential campaign.

Although led to safety upon so-called investigations, the public welcomed the inquiry into the Townsend plan. There was a reason for this attitude. Down deep within one and all of us is the hope of security against the period of old age. We wanted to know if the OARP would bring about that situation, and felt it was demonstrated to be economically unsound, then perhaps the probe would disclose some feasible plan.

DIDN'T WANT TRUTH

It soon developed, however, that Bell and his committee had no such idea in mind. Concealed in infidelity the cloven hoof soon made its appearance. The purpose was not beneficial but vicious—an attempt to test testimony before it. Congress movement and to destroy his much-feared political influence. So the committee dug into the public treasury with both hands, traveled around the country in luxurious style, held sessions in various places and had its snappers out in all directions in an effort to dig up something that would be detrimental—not to the plan itself—but the heads of it.

An adverse verdict had been prepared before a single session of the committee was ever held and that fact became so patent, that regardless of belief or disbelief in the Townsend movement, the country became disgusted with such tactics.
Embarrassed by this sustaining sentiment, Dr. Townsend defied the committee and refused to give further testimony before it. Congress did not dare to punish him for his defiance but passed the matter along to the courts, which was a convenient but cowardly way of side-stepping the issue.

THEY DON'T DARE

In the meantime Dr. Townsend has proclaimed that he indicted and convicted. He will refuse to pay a fine, but will go to jail. In that event we can look for a bloodless revolution. But such a contingency is not in the cards. In the first place those who are bent on destroying Townsend and his movement haven't the guts to go that far; and if they evidence that much intestinal fortitude the people generally will rise in their wrath and thrust upon an insurmountable barrier to the carrying out of such an edict.

In the meantime, we who maintain a position on the sidelines are watching developments with a great degree of interest and those of us who are inclined to speculate a bit now and then are placing our money on the venerable humanitarian to emerge victorious from the conflict. More power to him.

Jury Finds Babe's Death Was Accident

A coroner's jury last night mildly censured the parents of a four-and-one-half months' old baby when it found that the death of Eleanor Gilby, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gilby of 227 Sixteenth street was accidental.

The jury decided that death was the result of "asphyxiation, due to accidental aspiration of vomitus."
The jury further declared: "We believe that the parents should not have left the baby alone so long."

The child was found dead in her crib last week after the parents returned from a house-hunting expedition. Mr. and Mrs. Gilby testified they had left the child alone for about an hour.

Dr. L. H. Fraser, who was called in on the case, testified that the child had apparently vomited and had strangled to death as a result.
Deputy District Attorney Homer
Patterson and Special Investigator Melvin Myatt of the District Attorney's office were present at the inquest but they indicated that no action would be taken against the parents as the death was apparently accidental and there is no law prohibiting parents from leaving children alone.

300,000 ARE JOBLESS IN BIG WALKOUT

PARIS, June 3.—UP—Three hundred thousand French workers "revolted" tonight, laying down their tools in more than 400 factories and tying up a large part of the nation's heavy industry, to force a new deal for labor from the incoming Popular Front government.

The nation-wide movement,
threatening to develop into a general strike, was believed prompted by desire of the workers to make it clear to the new government that labor is a prime factor in the Popular Front, and is capable of enforcing its demands if they are not obtainable swiftly through legal channels.

HIGHER WAGES

The strikers are demanding higher wages, a 40-hour week, vacations with pay and the right for collective bargaining. These demands were met today in several metallurgical plants. A wholesale walkout in other plants, involving 300,000 men, followed. The movement undoubtedly was a last-minute effort to force the new government's hand.

The Popular Front government, which will be formed tomorrow by Socialist Leader Leon Blum, has promised speedy action on labor reforms. It is believed, however, that the workers, seeking something more tangible than promises, decided on a mass strike in order

Cowell Pleads Not Guilty To Moral Charges

REDWOOD CITY, June 3.—UP—Suddenly reversing his previously announced plans, Henry Dixon Cowell, 33, internationally noted musician and composer, pleaded not guilty today when arraigned in court on charges involving morals offenses against minor boys.

Cowell, according to county officials, confessed to charges involving nearly a score of boys, and at the time of his arrest said he would not fight the case but was resigned to his fate. He was bound over to the San Mateo county Superior court.

Ballot Recount To Start Today

MARTINEZ, June 3—Superior Judge A. F. Bray will preside tomorrow at a recount of ballots of the El Cerrito municipal election of May 14, asked by Anthony J.
Chapelle, defeated city clerk candidate, who claims errors were made in the tabulation by election boards that gave the office to Jack Stoddard. Stoddard was declared the winner by 12 votes.

It will mark the second time
Judge Bray has conducted a recount of ballots in the El Cerrito election.
Councilman J. R. Beck, defeated by four votes in tabulation by election boards, failed sufficient votes in a recount to win over Blake Mc-Neil.

Alleged Forger Is To Be Brought Back

MARTINEZ, June 3—Granted extradition papers by the governor, Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison left today for Portland, Oregon, to return A. J. Bostock, 45, who is wanted in this county on a charge of forging notes.

Bostock was arrested by Portland police on a warrant for this county. He is charged with tending a worthless $500 note to Matthias Souter of El Cerrito, representing to Souter that he was organizing a sign company.

Selection Of Trustees To Be Spirited

out the county, will go to the polls

dated for the election, which promises to be a spirited affair.

The incumbent trustees, seeking re-election, Ira E. Scott, El Cer-

Hislop, Richmond manufacturer are opposed by Mrs. Violet Klemm, member of the Townsend Club and prominent in PTA affairs and Oscar

Residents Are Warned To Keep Canine Pets In

City Health Commissioner Dr. C.
R. Blake yesterday warned Richmond residents to keep their dogs on their premises or to keep their pets on a leash when on the streets due to a rabies epidemic in the boy region.

"As a precautionary measure and as the number of persons being bitten by dogs in our neighborhood city, is increasing with a greater tendency to an epidemic of rabies, all dog owners in this city are requested to keep their dogs on their own premises or on leash when on the street."

"The poundmaster has been notified to pick up all dogs running loose on the streets of this city until further notice."

tion endorsing the re-election of

The resolution, which cites many accomplishments of the New Deal,
was introduced by Robert Willis,
committee chairman.

At the business meeting plans were made for a dinner to be held in Martinez on July 8. Members will join with the Women's National Democratic Club of Richmond at a

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS SUNDAY HELD IMPOSSIBLE

WASHINGTON, June 3.—UP—
The Senate late today abandoned its attempt to pass the tax bill immediately.

The Senate recessed at 6 P. M. until 10 A. M. tomorrow without reaching a vote on the measure.

HOPE GLENNING

WASHINGTON, June 3.—UP—Leaders of Congress saw their hopes for final adjournment this week go glimmering rapidly tonight, but both Houses worked at top speed.

Speaker Joseph W. Byrns, who had been optimistic, gave in today and admitted that there was "virtually no chance" of getting Congress out of town Saturday or Monday. He thought it might quit the week after the Republican convention.

ADJOURNMENT IMPOSSIBLE

Senate Majority Leader Joseph
T. Robinson and House rules committee chairman, John J. O'Connor got their heads together and afterward the word was passed along that adjournment by Sunday was "impossible."

The two Houses took this action to clear up the odds and ends that remain:

1.—THE HOUSE SENT THE RELIEF BILL TO CONFERENCE WITH THE SENATE.

2.—THE HOUSE ARRANGED TO TAKE UP THE GILLEY BILL TOMORROW

at 11 A. M. tomorrow and the Senate Interstate commerce committee opened two days of hearings.

3.—The House completed congressional action on the $300,000-300 omnibus flood control bill and the Senate did the same for the $270,000,000 Overton flood control bill for the lower Mississippi, thus sending both measures to the White House.

4.—The House judiciary committee reported favorably the Walsh-Healey bill, a measure seeking to revive NRA regulation by impos-

Standard Oil Union Changes Meeting Place

A decision to hold its meetings at the Memorial Hall instead of the plant cafeteria was reached last night when the Standard Oil Employees Association held its meeting.

It was also decided that a vacation will be taken by the association until August 27. At that time a meeting will be called at the veterans' hall.

Reports were received last evening that the National Labor Board has thrown out the petition of the Oil Workers Union of El Segundo asking that an election be called to determine what union shall represent the Standard Oil workers in collective bargaining. The national board stated that the matter was up to the unions themselves to decide before calling for an election.

Ben F. Mowday presided over the session.

Arch Masons To Confer Degree

discussed last evening when Richmond Chapter of Royal Arch Mas-

DOG CASE IS DISMISSED BY HEALEY

MARTINEZ, June 3.—With the majority of his key witnesses in other and more congenial climes and it having been found impossible to subpoena 18 of 22 who were to have been called to the stand, District Attorney Francis P. Healey today was forced to move for the dismissal of complaints against the five defendants in the dog track case.

Eleven jurors were in the box, but not accepted and about 40 spectators were waiting to be examined when the surprise move was made.
Diligent search by the sheriff of the defendants failed to reveal the presence of the witnesses in the state.
Three of the dog owners, who were used by a district attorney in the former trial in an attempt to establish the contention that, option selling on dog races was a prohibited business, were said to be in Portland, George Chapman, racing secretary against whom charges were dismissed just prior to the trial, was also subpoenaed.

In the former trial was required to be in Kansas City and three other employees of the kennel club were also rumored to be there. Where the others were no one knew.

In the meantime it is said that District Attorney Healey will study the situation to determine whether he will conduct another raid on the track when it opens for the winter meeting.

Court Holds $1 A Day In Jail Is Not Proper

MARTINEZ, June 3.—The county superior court today held that prisoners serving out a sentence in lieu of a fine can be held only one day for every $2 of the fine.

The decision was made by Judge
A. F. Bray as the result of a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Attorney Tom M. Carlson of Richmond for his client Robert L. Rowe of Bay Point, a former Richmond resident.

Rowe was found guilty some time ago in the court of Justice W. S.
Cunningham in Bay Point on charges of defrauding an innkeeper. He was sentenced to pay $60 or spend 60 days in the county jail.

Rowe had served 30 days when Carlson came to his aid, secured the writ and had Rowe brought into court. After hearing Carlson's argument that a man can not serve a day for every dollar of the fine, but may serve one day for each $2
the court held that the commitment papers issued by Judge Cunningham were defective and that the prisoner should be released.

flicated at the services, assisted by bors. Cremation was at Berkeley.

OVER-WORK IS BLAMED FOR DEATH

WASHINGTON, (Thursday)
June 4.—UP—Speaker Joseph W. Byrns, 66, Democratic member of Congress since 1909, died early today of a heart attack in his suite at the Mayflower Hotel.

Byrns went from the capitol
to his home when he became ill about 5:30 P. M. yesterday.

WIFE AT BEDSIDE

Dr. George Calvert, capitol physician, was called at 11 P.
M. Byrns suffered another stroke.

Four physicians were in consultation when Speaker Byrns died at 12:15 A. M. today. Dr. Calvert said.
At his bedside when he died were his wife and two brothers, John Byrns of Cincinnati, and M. J.
Byrns of Washington, D. C.

WAS UNDER STRAIN

Byrns had been under a strain in recent weeks as the second session of the 74th Congress was speeded up in an effort to close before the Republican national convention next week.

The veteran legislator became Speaker at the first session of the 74th Congress after he had served as majority leader of the 72nd Congress.

He represented the sixth Tennessee district in Congress from 1909 until 1933. Then he was elected to represent the Fifth Tennessee district.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE

His service in Congress has been distinguished. He was chairman of the Democratic National Congressional Committee and chairman of the committee on appropriations in the 72nd Congress.

Byrns was a southerner of the old school and a mild-mannered man who was not too happy when he had to impose stern measures on the unruly House. However, he was a thorough politician and had a reputation for being able to accomplish much with resiliantness by speaking a few words gently in private interviews.

Two Richmond Homes Slightly Damaged By Fire

Two homes were slightly damaged by fire here yesterday.

A home owned by C. H. Hunt at 850 Eighth street, suffered nominal damage when an electric iron caught the kitchen floor afire. Engines 2 and 3 and Truck 1 of the local fire department quickly extinguished the blaze.

According to fire department officials, an electric iron was left turned on in the house during the absence of the family. A pedestrian saw the smoke and turned in an alarm.

Earlier in the afternoon firemen were called to extinguish a blaze at the home of A. Hernandez, 440 A street. Children playing with matches apparently started the blaze.
Damage was estimated at less than $10.

ALF LONDON'S NOMINATION IS HELD CERTAIN

CLEVELAND, June 3.—UP—Governor Alf M. Landon's bandwagon rolled into Cleveland tonight before they could even get all the seats up in the big hall where Republicans will nominate a candidate for president.

The question you hear on street corners and in hotel lobbies is not "who will be nominated?", but "on what ballot will Landon win?" And the answer you hear most frequently is "on the first or second."

HOOPER'S SPEAK
Landon's supporters stopped talking victory only briefly to listen to a telegram from former President Herbert Hoover accepting an invitation to address the convention.

"I'll be glad to respond briefly any time of the day Wednesday, June 10," Hoover wired Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the National committee.

STOP IS SOUGHT
Supporters of Senator William E. Borah and Frank Knox of Chicago, scurried about, trying to scatter stacks in the path of the free-wheeling, rubber-tired Landon bandwagon.

George H. Moses, a Knox leader, stoutly fought against defeatism by announcing that "Knox and Landon will run neck and neck on the first ballot."

STATEMENT GIVEN
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 3.—UP—Governor Alf M. Landon tonight asked leaders of the Kansas delegation to the Republican national convention to make public the following statement:

"I've made no deals and no pledges. Nor will my friends in Cleveland make deals or pledges for me."

The governor's statement was made public by Will T. Beck, Kansas Republican chairman who led a contingent of Landon-pledged delegates which entrained here.

Beck received the statement from the governor in Topeka at the Landon headquarters here.

LETTERS TO AIMEE JAILS WANTED MAN

SAN DIEGO, June 3.—UP—Postal authorities in Los Angeles tonight attempted to check a story told by Valentine Phillip McAuliffe, 42-year old airplane mechanic that he and a companion sent five "extortion letters" to Aimee Semple McPherson, demanding $10,000 on the threat they would "blast your reputation."

McAuliffe walked into the district attorney's office late today and told the tale to Investigator Tom Frost. Investigation revealed he was wanted for questioning in a burglary here, and he was booked on a suspect felony charge.

Booked under the name Jack McAuliffe, New York, he said he was waiting for a reply to the letters when he decided to give himself up. Partially disabled, he was on crutches when he appeared at the district attorney's office.

Four of the letters, McAuliffe told police, were sent to Maude Harris, aide to Mrs. McPherson, and the fifth directly to the evangelist.

BATTLE OVER INSURANCE IN DEATH ENDS

MARTINEZ, June 3.—With reported payment by insurance companies of approximately $80,000 to beneficiaries of Julian C. Whitman, San Francisco, financier, found shot to death on a lonely Jersey island two and one-half years ago, this today was written to one of Contra Costa county's most baffling death mysteries.

PROBE CLOSED

Notice that the exhaustive probe is closed was served with the filing of a motion for dismissal in the United States District court of all suits against insurance companies, which had issued the policies on Whitman's life totaling $148,500, together with return of trial exhibits to the files of Sheriff John A. Miller at Martinez.

Findings of Whitman's body on the small island in the San Joaquin river early on the morning of December 29, 1933, was signalized by a maze of conflicting opinions that divided authorities equally between theories of murder and suicide.

PHONES WIFE

Whitman, former secretary of the San Francisco Stock Exchange, and at one time secretary of the State Civil Service Commission, was scheduled to attend a conference of the East Contra Costa Irrigation District at Brentwood the morning he was found on the island. He had confided these plans to his wife the last person to hear from him. In their home at Burlingame, she received a telephone call, which authorities learned had been placed from Benicia at 5:22 p. m. the evening before Whitman's death.

JURY SAYS MURDER

A coroner's jury at Brentwood said Whitman was murdered. The same theory was held by A. D. Joslin, former deputy sheriff, who directed the investigation. Arrayed against these positive opinions were Chief C. S. Morrill of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and special agents for six insurance companies who clung to the belief that death was due to suicide.

INTEREST MANIFEST IN CAMPFIRE GROUP

Considerable interest is being manifested in the city in the Campfire group that is in process of organization under the leadership of Mrs. Frances Stark McDonald. Six or seven girls have enrolled and it is planned to increase this number to about 20 within a short time. Plans are under contemplation for hikes, camping trips and other outings during the coming summer vacation season. Campfire work is not new to the community, as there was an active group last year of about 15 girls whose work entitled them to many "honors" as they are termed under the Campfire system of rewards. All girls in the community between 10 and 18 are eligible to join the Campfire Girls.

Vote For William Hislop for High School Trustee

The candidate is just completing his first term as a trustee of the Richmond Union High School. He is a candidate to succeed himself, because the people of the district insisted that he take this action.

When he was a candidate three years ago, it was not of his own volition, but because the electors of the district drafted him for the work, believing that his experience as a business man, and the training he has received would be valuable to the taxpayers of the district.

People Are Not Disappointed

The voters of the district, from many expressions that have been heard, are more than satisfied with the record he has made in this office.

Hislop, the head of the California Art Tile Company, is a hard-headed business man, and the same thoroughness injected into his own business has been carried into the conduct of the business of the high school.

He is one of those independent men, who wants to know the "whys" and "wherefores" of everything that comes before the board for action. If he makes up his mind the proposed action is bad for the taxpayers and the children of the district, his stand is against the move. In other words he is the watchdog of the treasury, and no one can swerve him from his decision.

You Need Such Men In Office

Such a type of man is rare in public office. He is not there for any selfish purpose, but to serve the taxpayers of the district to the best of his ability. True, you may not always agree with the stand he takes, but you must admit, that he has done what his best judgment dictates.

Don't Rock the Boat In Mid-Stream

This is no time for making any change in the personnel of the high school board. The business of the district has been well taken care of. Don't swap horses in the middle of the stream. Keep those who have been faithful to your interests.

Go to the polls tomorrow and cast your vote to retain

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH By Dr. Frank McCoy

YOUR FINEST PIECE OF PROPERTY

Have you who are so concerned about investing in valuable real estate, ever considered what a fine piece of property you possess in that body of yours, which you have failed to cultivate and improve? Our capabilities for accomplishing our aims and enjoying ourselves depend almost entirely upon the health of the physical body. No wealth we can obtain, or honor we can receive, can make us happy any further than we have health with which to enjoy them, and the value of all we possess diminishes in proportion as we become sick. The efficiency we develop, and our ability to commune with our fellows, depends upon the way we can express ourselves through the physical body. We speak with our mouths, we see with our eyes, we hear with our ears, and through these mediums of expression we are able to make our contact with the world about us.

Who would take a million dollars for the loss of an eye? And yet how true, that every day we thoughtlessly do things which hurt our eyes. Bad habits, and practices which impair our sight cut down our enjoyment of the things about us, which we might see and understand. Our ears become stuffed up with catarrhal diseases, so that we cannot hear, and learn as much through the sense of hearing. When in health, with what zest we enjoy delicious food, which only nauseates when diseased has destroyed our appetite. All who are healthy are, therefore, rich because their fullness of life turns all surroundings to means of enjoyment. The poorest servant who is healthy is so much richer than the feeble millionaire master, who has no means by which he can enjoy his riches, if he does not have health.

If you were sure you were going to die tomorrow, how much would you not give for one more year of health and happiness? You would no doubt give every dollar and every piece of property you own if, when sick, you could once again regain health and all of its pleasures.

Health is a fortune at interest, the income from which, economically used, will support you. Spending health foolishly draws on the principal, and you will soon find yourself bankrupt. The more you draw on the principal the sooner you will exhaust it, so all over-eating, over-working, loss of sleep, improper habits, and whatever injures the health will expend your fund of life, and death will summon you to your final reckoning.

A strong body is a natural heritage, but you can develop even a stronger body than you now have by systematically up to the present time. There is a science to physical development, and you can learn it the same as anyone else. If your desires run to mental work and you are occupied in some sedentary occupation, such as practicing one of the professions, this does not keep you from exercising the physical body and developing it to its utmost perfection.

We have depicted so from nature, finding it is necessary to make a scientific study of health building, if we would obtain the highest possible mark of perfection.

The great thing for each of us to remember is that we have a body for development, and that this body is the finest piece of property we will ever possess, the cultivation of which will bring us far greater dividends than any real estate or business we can develop.

Make the preservation and development of health the paramount interest in your life.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Eczema in Babies) Question: Mrs. Edgar I. asks: "My infant son has eczema underneath his knees. I would like very much to help him overcome this and will appreciate any helpful information you can give me."

Answer: Eczema, quite frequently, is a very serious disease, and I have had so many requests for an article on the subject of eczema in infants that I have prepared one called BABY'S ECZEMA. I will be glad to have the article forwarded to you if you will write me again. Please be sure to enclose your name and address, written on a separate envelope. Also send ten cents in stamps or coin to help pay the cost of preparing and mailing the article. It has been my experience that this skin disorder when existing in the infant may be cleared up satisfactorily, provided the correct treatment is used. The article on Baby's Eczema will be sent to any mother desiring a copy providing she complies with the directions given above. Unfortunately, eczema is the most common skin disease affecting the infant. The frequency with which the disease is found in babies is partly due to the delicacy of the skin, which causes it to be easily affected by irritation. The disease is found quite frequently in infants otherwise appearing very healthy and is, for example, likely to occur in fat babies who are over-fed. The simple form of chronic eczema is usually found on the cheeks, forehead, and scalp, but may attack other parts of the body. The disorder begins by the formation of small red patches which then run together and excude a moist fluid characteristic of "weeping" eczema. As the secretion dries it will appear as a thick crust. Considerable itching is induced, which causes the baby to scratch, and it is very difficult to keep the young child from scratching the involved patches. The child becomes restless, irritable, and loses sleep. The disease is most frequently due to wrong feeding; however, it may be the result of a sensitivity of the infant to protein. In some infants, the eczema disappears spontaneously at the end of the first year.

Sufferers From Hay-fever Sniffle in Vain as Cure Eludes Doctors

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

THERE is probably no group of ailing people who can unanimously tell more hopeless stories of downright misery than the hay-fever sufferers. One out of every fifty persons in our country is handicapped by the disabilities, not to mention the distress, of this stubborn and baffling disease. For it amounts to a disease although its victims claim they are not sick. Neither is it a fever, nor has hay really anything to do with it. One form is called rose cold, yet it is not a cold and roses are not at all likely to be the irritating cause.

If the name is a misnomer, there isn't anything very uncertain about the trouble. It is more to be reckoned with than variations in business, for it keeps its appointments usually to the day, both coming and going.

The victims grow desperate and pursue endless nostrums in the hope of relief. Just a few of the remedies tried include quinine, the salicylates, nux vomica, belladonna, tincture of aconite, and all sorts of extracts. Every form of bath, hot or cold, liquid or steam, creeps with ice packs to the feet, the spine or the throat. What is a favorite remedy and perhaps it does overcome the chills.

Causes in Blood Stream

A man once claimed to have cured himself by raising a moustache. If it brought him any relief, it would have to be a bushy affair that would screen his nose from irritants. Thousands try to run away from their misery but the results are pathetically disappointing. A noted surgeon once told me—and surgery for hay-fever is not uncommon—that if there really were a place where one might get rid of this distress, it would be too crowded to get in.

We shall discuss now a few of the factors in the study and behavior of this prevailing torment and tomorrow we can tell you what is being done about it.

First, why do people have hay-fever? Well, they have an allergy. In other words there is something in the blood stream that causes the mucous membranes of the nose, eyes, and throat, to react to the pollen of certain trees, flowers, plants, and often to the hair and feathers of animals. We only know what it is, but we only know it is so. It is a condition in the blood of the body, because the tendency is very frequently inherited and the blood of a hay-fever victim is injected into a normal person, this person will become allergic to similar pollens. It is a sensitiveness to certain irritants but the cause is in the blood.

The Three Types

When do they have the trouble? There are three types of hay-fever. First, the spring type begins at the end of March and lasts until the end of May. It is due to the pollen of trees, such as the oak, elm, maple, birch, and alder. The second or summer type commences about the last of May and extends into July. This is caused by the pollen of grasses, such as June grass, orchard grass, sweet vernal timothy and plantain. The third or fall type, which is the most common, begins in the middle of August and continues until frost. The pollen of rag weeds is the most common cause of this latter type. A patient who has had several attacks can tell to the day when the attack will begin and end. This is not a mental condition. The fact remains that in a given locality, plants produce their pollen at about the same time each year regardless of the weather conditions. The symptoms of hay-fever are localized in the nose, throat and eyes. The mucous membranes become congested and swollen. Burning and itching, coughing, sneezing and weeping from the nose and eyes keep up constantly. The patient is not sick but he is utterly miserable which is about as bad.

Use for Sewing Hoops

If you have a pair of embroidery hoops, take them out of the sewing box into the kitchen where they come in handy for removing fresh stains from linen. Just stretch the stained part over the hoop; take the napkin or tablecloth to the sink and turn the hot water on over the stain.

Weak Ankles

To strengthen weak ankles, stretch the foot straight out in front, bend them downward as far as possible, then upward as far as possible. Do this at least ten times. Then stretch them out straight and, rotate them at the ankles, turning them round toward each other.

"Raffia Coral" Shade

Displays of cruise and southern resort clothes are showing much partiality toward a brilliant orange-rose shade which is often called "Raffia coral." Seen first in linens and cottons, this color has spread to other fabrics as well.

Engineer Wins Fame As Film Director

By TALBOT LAKE

ALFRED HITCHCOCK, who directed "The 39 Steps" and "The Man Who Knew Too Much," has recently won honorable mention as one of the best directors of 1935.

He is only thirty-five years old, and is not only the most celebrated director in England at the present time, but also a striking personality. Ruddy-complexioned, apparently grave and quiet, he is a tremendous man with a multitude of chins and a keen sense of humor.

He is married to Alma Reville, a well-known scenario writer. They live on the top floor of a six-story apartment house in London. Hitchcock has chosen this place because it has no elevator. He hopes the stairs will reduce his birth. So far, his hopes have not been fulfilled.

He did not start out in the theater, but was trained in engineering. Son of a London shopkeeper, Hitchcock was first sent to a Jesuit school, and then to an engineering school. He got a job in an advertising agency and supplemented his meager earnings by writing captions for the old silent films.

This was the way he got into the movies. He directed the first really successful British talkie, "Blackmail," "The 39 Steps," with Robert Donat and Madeleine Carroll, brought him fame.

His latest picture is "Secret Agent," from the story by Somerset Maugham. His next picture will be "The Hidden Power," co-starring Sylvia Sydney and Robert Donat. This is a film version of the Joseph Conrad novel.

Laundering Curtains

Fold each curtain lengthwise twice, then crosswise three times. Place them in a tub, cover them with cold or lukewarm water to which three tablespoons of borax have been added and let stand for several hours or overnight. Squeeze them and pour over them hot suds and let stand another hour or more. Then with the hands force the suds through them carefully until clean. Rinse and starch very well. Do not unfold the curtains until you put them on the stretchers.

Guide to Charm

Creams and Lotion Help You Suntan

By JACQUELINE HUNT

JUNE reminds you that the dog days of summer are just around the corner and it is time to start making plans for your vacations. Away you will go to the mountains, to the plains, to the seashore and off on cruises. Romance may be waiting for you. There will be new faces, new scenes and new thrills.

You want to be ready for whatever summer brings. You should always take good care of your skin, hands and hair, especially in the summer, and some of you want suggestions on how you can be your loveliest self when you are traveling and getting your annual fill of fun and sunshine.

Some of you with only a short vacation ahead will want to appear suntanned and outdoorsy when you really are fair-skinned and want to stay that way for your return to town and business. Others wish to know how they can soak up all of the sun they can as painlessly as possible. So today, we will answer questions that many of you are asking about vacations.

How can I appear suntanned when I'm not? I feel so conspicuous when I go to camp and see the others as brown as berries. While my white skin seems sickly and pale.

Use a tinted cream or water-proof lotion in suntan shades and dust on your powder. These preparations are made especially to give your skin a sun-kissed look and they are practically waterproof. Do not try to acquire a suntan if you have only a week or two. You know how slow and yellowish the best tan looks as it starts to fade. And you will have the advantage of looking fair and feminine and romantic under the moon.

How can I get a suntan as quickly and painlessly as possible? Don your bathing suit or shorts, take along a beach robe or cape, a shade hat and your bottle of suntan oil. Find a nice sunny spot, lay aside the hat and robe and expose yourself to the bright sun for two minutes front and back. Turn yourself carefully, then literally soak your skin in the oil. Continue sunning about five minutes front and back, then put on your hat and put on your cape. Sun the legs a few more minutes and then cover up.

If your skin feels perfectly grand and shows a faint beginning of a tan after this treatment, double the exposure the next day and increase the time until you are spending nearly two hours daily exposed to the sun.

How can I prevent freckling? This is the most distressing of summer problems to some of you. There just isn't much that you can do about it. You can keep them light and inconspicuous and help them fade away much more quickly if you wear a good "sun-protect" cream and apply your powder heavily before you go out into the sun. If you swim or play tennis in low-cut dresses or shorts, be sure to apply the cream liberally over all parts exposed to the sun. Apply pure lemon juice or a lemon cream and lotion at night to help bleach the skin.

More vacation questions answered in tomorrow's column.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "How can a beginner know what creams to buy? There are so many with confusing names that I do not know what to ask for. My skin has become very dry and scaly the past year or so. I am not in the habit of using cosmetics of any kind since my skin has a good color and has always been soft and fine until recently—Mrs. McK."

You will need a cold cream that can be used for all purposes or a lubricating cream for softening. The latter are sometimes called "skin food," "nourishing cream," "night cream" or "tissue cream." They all mean the same thing, so do not let the name fool you. I would suggest a make-up base and a light dusting of powder to protect your skin from the sun and wind and prevent flaking during the day.

QUESTION: "What can I do about deep lines from my nose to my mouth?"—Helen.

Blowing as vigorously as possible will help to soften the lines. Take a mouthful of air, press the lips firmly together and blow as hard as you can against the upper lip. Keeping your lips and cheeks like a blown-up balloon, take a little rich cream on your fingertips and massage it upward from the corners of the mouth to the nose. Then pat gently and repeatedly with your fingers, leaving the cream on. After five or ten minutes, wipe off the excess cream and use a cold astringent.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "What is meant by the term 'high tea' and what menu is served?"—A. C.

ANSWER: High tea is merely another word for a substantial, in fact, lavish—hot supper. Oyster stew, fried chicken, corn fritters, waffles, hot biscuits and chocolate is the most typical menu I can give you.

QUESTION: "A neighbor is teaching her little boy to say 'sir' and 'ma'am' when addressing his elders. I have taught my own children to speak the name of the person whom they address instead of saying 'sir' or 'ma'am.' Which is correct?"—Mrs. J. D. R.

ANSWER: Both are correct. "Sir" and "ma'am" however, are considered a bit old-fashioned to day. After all, what difference does it make whether a child says, "Yes, sir," or "Yes, Mr. Jones," or plain "Yes," as long as his manner is polite?

QUESTION: "At a dinner recently, I noticed that some removed their finger bowls and dollops from the dessert plates, placing them to the right, while others placed them to the left, before dessert was brought in. This means that between some places there were two finger bowls. Just what is correct in such a case?"—Miss L. W.

ANSWER: The dolly and finger bowl go to the left of the dessert plate. A guest who has placed them to the right, upon realizing his mistake, needs but to pick them up and transfer them to the left of his plate. There is no rule of etiquette which says that a person cannot correct an error in etiquette at any time. If he goes about it quietly. The idea is not to call attention to a mistake by mentioning it.

Speaking of Style

Races Bring Out Riot of Frock Hues

By IRENE VAIL

New York—As usual, the horses bring out well dressed women. I wonder if this is why horses wear blinkers. It's really the men who need blinkers, for unless he is pretty sophisticated, he is bound to get side-tracked by the flashes of colors worn at the rail. They have the brilliancy of jockey colors. The winning colors are bright blue, cerise, bright green or lilac for the background when the costume is printed. Navy, gray, or a pastel is popular for the two-tone costumes with little white except for trimming.

Full loose sleeves are typical of the printed dresses. Some of them are in the interesting combination of flowers. Far away many in her collection, especially large orchids. Big carnations used in three are also her suggestion, and she makes a decolette decoration on a violet crepe frock of different color tulips. Molyneux makes what is described as an "irresistible" evening wrap entirely of massed carnation petals.

Speaking of Paris inspired ideas, the sleeve fancies are greatly modified with many couturiers replacing squared shoulders by the dropped sleeves, leaving the shoulder smooth with fullness below. Others retain slight leg o'mutton effects, or padded shoulders, either squared or rounded.

Tunics and peplums are important, with comment in particular on certain somewhat stiff lampshade peplums. These are new looking, but must be modified for practical wear.

Yellows are most numerous in light colors, both in sports and evening fashions, and for the latter, yellow is often combined with mauve. The yellow shades include butter, maize, citron and greener tones like greenish canary. Pink is fairly prominent, mostly on the violet cast like orchid, strawberry or opaline. Several houses show one or two models in degrade pinks, that is, with a lighter top and darker skirt as adopted for a Mainbocher evening gown, or in a LeLong daytime ensemble with wine red girdle and jacket lining. There is considerable wine red, in more or less purple tones, sometimes brownish.

In situations where the child invents stories to escape punishment, prove to him that you are not thinking of punishing him. Rather, all you want is the truth. Interrupt him. Say, "Now tell me how it really happened, will you?"

Pettiness and vindictiveness do not pay; a broken flower pot cannot be restored. Here is a chance for character building. Show the child that he has your wholehearted support in taking responsibility for his own actions. In this way you teach him that excuses are not necessary.

It was wrong to label Peter's story a lie. He was in a tight spot and his imagination came to the rescue. Fearing punishment, he found comfort in an escape from reality. That's how he wanted to be: with Johnny the guilty one instead of himself. His motive was not to blame Johnny, but to save himself.

No Pictures in Home
No pictures in the home seems to be the mode at the present time. However, one or two carefully selected pictures will give a home-like appearance to many rooms and some really require them as a finish. In the small home attractively framed mirrors answer the purpose better as they give an appearance of size to the room.

Tourists Go to Europe to Find Good Hotel Food, Mrs. Martin Says

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

WE WERE motoring the other day and stopped for dinner at a large hotel. The meal was unimaginative and tasteless. "I suppose," said one of the men in the party, "that this dinner is typical of meals in thousands of hotels of this type and is being served just as this dinner is served—about thirty-five cents worth of dinner for a dollar."

Fear of Punishment Makes Child Lie

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

WHILE playing outside the other day, Peter had knocked over and broke one of mother's flower pots. Later when confronted by mother with the question, "Do you know how this happened, Peter," the boy glibly told a story. "Johnny did it, mother. Yes, he did. I saw him take his foot like this and give the flower pot a kick like that."

"You're sure he did it?" mother asked, giving special emphasis to the word "sure." She really was giving Peter a chance to retract his story. Johnny, a cousin living at the other end of town, had not been over for three whole days, when mother watered the plants early the same morning, the flower pot had been intact.

Peter screwed up his face. "I tried to stop him," he fabricated. "I said, 'Better not kick; you'll break the flower pot,' but he— 'That's a lie!' mother interrupted. 'Johnny wasn't here. You broke it, Peter.' At this accusation, Peter's chin trembled. 'Yes, I did it, mother,' he cried out. 'Don't hit me!'

It was wrong to label Peter's story a lie. He was in a tight spot and his imagination came to the rescue. Fearing punishment, he found comfort in an escape from reality. That's how he wanted to be: with Johnny the guilty one instead of himself. His motive was not to blame Johnny, but to save himself.

Recalls Meals Abroad

I remember so many unexpectedly delicious meals abroad, and I have chanced upon very few in my own country. An omelette, a salad and cheese may not measure up to the standard menu of the chain hotel, but it certainly stays in my memory.

Following a set formula may be a safe method of catering. But it does much toward nourishing the soul and precious little toward nourishing the body. The conviction that "fate cannot harm me, I have dined today," is not experienced by those who dine at the average public eating place.

Standardized menus leave much to be desired. Nearly everyone would rather eat a good meal at the table of a friend, or have a pick-up supper at home than to wade through the average hotel menu.

Men, especially, abhor little dishes of this and that side dishes of that. They like a substantial dish and plenty of it. The "trimmings" means little to them. A dinner plate encircled with dishes filled with tasteless vegetables leaves a man cold and makes women wonder who cut the original pattern for the standardized meal.

Parents Should Invite
"My dear Mrs. Martin: My daughter, age seventeen, has been invited to spend two weeks with one of her classmates. We do not know the girl's parents and have never met the girl. Our daughter is a little more about the girl. We feel very strange about saying that she may accept. She lives in a country place about 50 miles from where we live. Would you let her go? We would be glad to give her the opportunity to accept, but should we?"

"Mrs. A. R. C."

Why not let your daughter tell her classmate that you would feel happier about letting her accept if you were really sure that the girl's mother would like to have her? Do not stand on formality and insist that the invitation come from the girl's mother. As a matter of fact, she should write your daughter a little note or send a message of welcome by her daughter.

I am sure one will be forthcoming. You must try to take into consideration the fact that we are living in a most casual age and that social standards of today are not like they were. I see no reason why your daughter should not spend a fortnight with her friend after she is assured of a welcome from the girl's parents.

Mannish notched revers on the boxy swaggar sketched at the left makes it a classic sports type. Herringbone weave Shetland is the best type.

Right, a tuxedo revers collar and shoulders squared off and widened by a box pleat are the distinguishing characteristics of another simple swaggar type that is important this season.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive breath odor due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleans mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. You'll find how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

9.—The Senate commerce committee cleared its calendar by reporting six minor bills.

10.—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, introduced a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to permit the president to disapprove any item of a general appropriation bill without vetoing the entire measure.

which they have been at liberty since their arrest. They were among 22 dog track workers arrested in a raid last December 18. Charges against all the others were subsequently dismissed.

COULDN'T FIND THEM

Healey learned of the inability of sheriff's officers to serve witnesses this morning.

"I have been informed," Healey said in a surprise statement to the court, "that sheriff's deputies have been unable to serve important state witnesses. Ten days ago my office had detectives spot these people in San Francisco and other cities, getting their addresses. A week ago we turned the subpoenas over to the sheriff's office. Deputies have tried to find them but have been unable to do so."

TELLS OF EFFORTS

At the direction of the court Deputy Sheriff Norman Wilson who attempted to serve the subpoenas with Deputy Ralph Beck, took the witnesses.

"We found some of them had come to Kansas City, Portland and Los Angeles and others, we were told were on vacations," Wilson said. "We went to some of the places as many as five times."

WASTE NO TIME

"Some of these witnesses are very important to the state's case," Healey said. "We could read some of the testimony from the former trial if the defense attorneys consented but the jury could not try the case intelligently and it would be a waste of time and taxpayer's money. I am asking for a dismissal."

CONVENES ACTION

"If I think the district attorney has been fair and has performed his duty as he has seen fit," Judge Johnson declared, "Circumstances over which he has no control have brought about this situation. Under the conditions it would be a waste of time and money to proceed with further trial."

to hold a bludgeon over the cabinet's head and force an immediate showdown.

STRIKE FEVER

The National Labor Federation, as well as Popular Front leaders, approves the strikers' demands. It is maintained that the movement is not centralized but is merely the result of strike fever spreading to individual firms where workers consider the present moment opportune to enforce their demands.

The Communists disclaimed leadership and promised to hold Communist adherents in check if possible.

FOOD SHORTAGE SEEN

Officials feared the allegedly Communist-inspired movement, apparently out of hand, would result in a general transport strike tomorrow coincident with the resignation of Premier Albert Sarraut's government and the assumption of power by the Popular Front, led by the Socialist, Leon Blum.

Both Sarraut and Blum, the incoming premier, tried vainly to halt spread of the strike which, if it grips the transport industry, probably will cause a food and milk shortage in Paris and other cities. Indications tonight were that the strike has not yet reached its climax and that it is growing hourly. Already the metallurgical, film and night club industries have been affected. Government munitions and armament contracts were tied up and several American-owned plants were forced to close down.

A Good Official Should Be Rewarded By Re-Electing Him

The people of a district should always appreciate the services of a public officer, especially one that serves without compensation, when he is a candidate to succeed himself, providing he has been faithful to the trust that has been reposed in him.

At the election to be held Friday, June 5th, two trustees are to be elected for the Richmond Union High School district, and one of the candidates is

Ira E. Scott Of El Cerrito

The candidate is a painting contractor, a business man of long standing and three years ago when he announced his candidacy he stated that business methods would be applied to the school department of the district. This pledge he has carried out in every respect, and now he is asking for your endorsement at the polls tomorrow.

The high school district is a combination of many grammar districts in the western end of the county, and among the territory included is El Cerrito, Arlington and Kensington. Scott is the only trustee on the high school board that resides in this district, and contains a population of nearly 10,000. This section is entitled to representation as a matter of fairness.

He is Entitled to Your Support

During the past three years he has given attention to the needs of this fast growing section, and largely to his efforts, El Cerrito is to have a Junior high school in the near future, as the site has already been purchased.

The needs of the children of the west side have been taken care of and where in the past they were obliged to provide their own means of getting to the high school, the district is now taking care of that expense, which is right and proper.

No part of the district has been overlooked during the three years he has just served, the welfare of the children of the entire section has always been uppermost in his mind.

Remember the Election June 5

When an officer has given you the best he has, he is entitled to his reward, and the only way you can express your appreciation is by going to the polls tomorrow and casting your ballot for

IRA E. SCOTT
